British Cruiser Squadron Defeats Entire Hun Navy

German Fleet Cornered off the Coast of Denmark and After a Terrible Engagement is Forced to Run for Shelter in Kiel Canal—Heavy Losses on Both Sides—Britannia Still Rules the Seven Seas!

London, June 4.—A statement issued tonight by the British admiralty confirming previous accounts of the battle between the British and German fleets, reiterates that the German accounts of the German losses are false, and that although the evidence is still incomplete, enough is known to justify stating that the German losses were greater than the British, "not merely relatively to the strength of the two fleets, but absolutely."

There is the strongest ground for believing, says the statement, that the German losses include two battleships, two dreadnought battle cruisers of the latest type and two of the latest light cruisers, in addition to smaller craft, including a submarine.

The text of the statement follows:

"Until the commander-in-chief has had time to consult the officers engaged and write a full dispatch, any attempt to give a detailed history of the naval engagement which began on the afternoon of May 31 and ended in the morning hours of June 1 would evidently be premature. But the results are quite plain. The grand fleet came in touch with the German high seas fleet at 3.30 on the afternoon of May 31. The leading ships of the two fleets carried on a vigorous fight, in which the battle cruisers, fast battleships, and subsidiary craft all took an active part.

"The losses were severe on both sides, but when the main body of the British fleet came in contact with the German high seas fleet, a brief period sufficed to compel the latter, who had been severely punished, to seek refuge in their protected waters. This maneuver was rendered possible by low visibility and mist, and although the grand fleet were now and then able to get in momentary contact with their opponents, no continuous action was possible.

"They continued the pursuit until the light wholly failed, while the British destroyers were able to make a successful attack upon the enemy during the night.

"Meanwhile, Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, having driven the enemy into port, returned to the main scope of the action and scoured the sea in search of disabled vessels. By noon the next day, June 1, it became evident there was nothing more to be done. He returned therefore to his bases, 400 miles away, re-fueled his fleet, and the evening of June 2 was again ready to put to sea.

"The British losses have already been stated. There is nothing to add or subtract from the latest account published by the admiralty. The enemy losses are less easy to determine. That the accounts they have given of the world are false is certain, and we cannot yet be sure of the exact truth. But from such evidence as has come to our knowledge, the admiralty entertain no doubt that the German losses are heavier than the British, not merely relatively to the strength of the two fleets, but absolutely.

"There seems to be the strongest ground for supposing that included in the German losses are two battleships, two dreadnought battle cruisers of the latest type; two light cruisers, the Wiesbaden and Elbing, a light cruiser of the Rostock type, the light cruiser Fraunlob, nine destroyers and a submarine.

London, June 4.—Great Britain still holds undisputed supremacy of the seas, in the judgment of Colonel Winston Spencer Churchill, ill, whose opinions on naval matters are eagerly sought in England. Colonel Churchill gave the Associated Press the following statement yesterday:

"I have had an opportunity of examining the reports of the admirals and of considering the information in the possession of the admiralty. The following facts seem to me to be established: The naval supremacy of the British fleet in capital ships depends on super-dreadnoughts armed with 13.5 inch guns, and these are sufficient by themselves to maintain control of the seas. Of these vital units of the first rank we only have lost one—the Queen Mary. There appears to be no doubt that the Germans have lost at least one comparable ship. If this should be the Lutzow or the Derfflinger, that vessel is a heavier loss to them actually and relatively than the Queen Mary is to us.

"Coming to vessels of the second order we have lost the Indefatigable and the Invincible. These are of an entirely different class from the super-dreadnoughts, and do not rank as primary units at the present. A dreadnought battleship of the Westfalen type would be a loss comparable to either.

"The armored cruisers Black Prince, Defence and Warrior belonged to the third order of ships, of which we possess a very large superiority. The sinking of the two brand new German light cruisers Wiesbaden and Elbing is, in fact, a more serious loss to the enemy.

"In all these vessels the most serious feature is the loss of their splendid and irreplaceable crews.

"The destroyer casualties appear to be about equal. On these terms we, being the strongest, are the gainers. Our margin of superiority is in no way impaired. The dispatch of troops to the continent should continue with the utmost freedom, the battered condition of the German fleet, being an additional security to us.

"The hazy weather, the fall of the night, and the retreat of the enemy alone frustrated the persevering efforts of our brilliant commanders, Sir John Jellicoe and Sir David Beatty, to force a final decision. Although it was not possible, to compel the German main fleet to accept battle, the conclusions reached are of extreme importance. All classes of vessels on both sides have now met, and we know that there are no surprises or unforeseen features. An estimate can be taken of the strength of the enemy and his definite inferiority is freed from any element of uncertainty.

"I cannot record these facts without expressing my profound sympathy with those who have lost their dearest ones. Many of the most gallant sailors Britain has ever nurtured, and some of our most splendid officers have gone, but they have died as they would have wished to die, in a blue water action, which, as it is studied, will more and more be found to be a definite step towards the attainment of a complete victory."

BRITISH LOSSES

Queen Mary, battle cruiser. Invincible, battle cruiser. Indefatigable, battle cruiser. Defence, armored cruiser. Warrior, armored cruiser. Black Prince, armored cruiser. Eight destroyers.

Totals—14 ships, 113,287 tons, 40 big guns.

GERMAN LOSSES

Hindenburg, dreadnought. Westfalen, dreadnought. Kaiser Class battleship. Derfflinger or Lutzow, battle cruiser.

Pommern, battleship. Elbing, light cruiser. Wiesbaden, light cruiser. Frauenlob, 3rd class cruiser. Nine destroyers.

V-28, submarine. Totals—18 ships, 132,912 tons, 48 big guns.

LIEUT. SHACKLETON IS SAFE AT PORT STANLEY

London, June 1.—Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton, the Antarctic explorer, has arrived safely at Port Stanley, Falkland Islands.

The news that Lieut. Shackleton was safe reached London shortly after midnight. The message was from the explorer himself, and announced his arrival at Port Stanley.

The message said his ship, the Endurance, had been "crushed" in an ice floe last October, but that it drifted until mid-winter, when he and his party landed on Elephant Island, in the south Shetland group.

The explorer left in a small boat with five men a week later to summon help, leaving 22 men behind. All of them were well, but in a situation which demanded the quickest possible relief.

The message from Lieut. Shackleton was dated Port Stanley, May 31. It said that he left Elephant Island April 24. The gravest fears had been entertained for the explorer during the past two weeks owing to the absence of news from the Endurance, and in the house of commons yesterday Premier Asquith said that the government had approved of a committee appointed by the admiralty to give advice regarding a relief expedition.

The news of the safety of Sir Ernest and the small party with him has not lessened the necessity for relief, which is even more pressing now on behalf of the men left behind in the ice on Elephant Island, probably scantily provided with provisions and other necessities, as well as in behalf of the Ross sea party which was stranded on the Great Barrier through the breaking away of the relief ship Aurora which returned to New Zealand early in the year.

Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton's expedition, which had as an object the crossing of the Antarctic continent from Wendell sea to Ross sea, started from England in August, 1914.

NUMBER OF CONCERTS GIVEN NOT EQUALLED BY ANY OTHER ARTIST

During the last ten years the number of engagements filled by Shovgaard is one thousand three hundred and fifty seven in America and four hundred and thirty-nine in the various European countries. These figures seem almost incredible, but they are true nevertheless. On his wonderful thirteen-thousand-dollar violin he has played for most of the crowned heads of Europe, and yet he has often walked miles on foot to play for some sympathetic music lover who was too ill to attend the concert or too poor to pay the price of admission.

CANADA GREATEST LINK IN CHAIN OF BRITISH EMPIRE

London, June 1.—Sir Charles Lucas, who for many years has been head of the Dominion's administration at the colonial office here, and who still holds an important semi-official position, made an interesting declaration at Tuesday night's Canadian gathering at the Lyceum Club at which Sir George Perley, Sir Richard McBride, and Col. N. Adams also made speeches.

Sir Charles said that in the past mischief had been done by the mother country meddling unwisely with the colonies. There was no ground for the apprehension that history would repeat itself. The motherland had learned wisdom, and he himself was most anxious, that when the question of the future of our commonwealth arises the proposal should come from Overseas, especially from Canada, which he called the "Princess Royal of the Dominions." It would be happy if the first word came from her. Canada was the greatest link geographically in the empire bridge that grasps two oceans.

"It rests with you," he said, addressing the Canadians present, "whether this highway is to last for all time. We believe you will hold it as you did the Colonel Adams declared the special triumph of this war would be that medical diseases which had decimated armies so terribly in previous wars had now been stamped out. Typhoid is practically unknown in the present war.

NO WONDER THEY ENCOURAGE TALK OF EARLY PEACE

London, May 31.—A Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says: "Berlin has made a further reduction of the meat ration. Beginning Tuesday, this was fixed at a half-pound of meat or fat per adult each week. Under the new arrangements the ration is subject to revision each week. It is doubtful whether the supplies on hand will meet even this allowance.

"The shortage of eggs continues and in the absence of the ordinary variety the government is encouraging the use of gulls' eggs, which, it claimed, are suitable for certain cooking purposes. "There is also a serious lack of sugar. Last week the hotel and restaurant-keepers appealed to the municipality to increase the minimum allowed to be purchased. The request was refused and notice was served that restaurants' customers in the future must bring with them the sugar which they wish for their coffee, tea, or cocoa. Soap is now so scarce that workmen in Berlin factories have to bring their supply with them if they wish to wash before leaving the works."

It is strange how people are prone to look for evil in everything they see or hear. The Western Globe is a victim of this state of affairs. In our issue of April 19th, we published in the local items the note that Mrs. Taylor, of the Arlington, had made a trip to Edmonton. This item was published just as all other local news items are published, without any comment and with no intention of doing that estimable lady an injustice. Yet exception has been taken to it, and we express our deepest sorrow at the fact that we published it and will never again err to this extent.

Coyotes are becoming a menace to the stock-grower—especially those who raise sheep. During the past few weeks, on G. H. It is about time the government put a bounty on these animals.

Lacombe has a special interest in the 151st, fifty-five of our boys being in its ranks. The battalion was recruited locally in various centres in Central Alberta, and is one of the best in Canada. The sale of Shorthorn bulls, held on June 1st by Messrs. Neil & Revington, of Lucan, Ontario, while not financially a success, established the fact that these gentlemen are noted for handling only the best, one of their bulls selling for $560, Mr. Daley, of Daysland, being the buyer. Mr. Monical, of Clive, purchased one for $300, while several sold for from $145 to $200 each. Mr. Neil, who owns the Maple Avenue Stock Farm at Lucan, Ontario, and who is still here with some Aberdeen-Angus bulls, says he feels quite optimistic over future business in this country, and contemplates purchasing some land near here to open up a branch business for handling their pure-bred horses, cattle, sheep and hogs.

"Charlie's Aunt" is not coming to Lacombe tomorrow night.

Young man, why don't you call at the recruiting office, in Inghis & Cameron's office, and sign on? If you are not physically fit and not suitable for overseas service you will get a certificate from the examining doctor to that effect, and you will be cleared in the eyes of the public. As it is no one believes you when you spring that old one that if you were physically fit you would enlist. Think it over, for this is surely the time when Britain expects every young and able man to do his duty.

Sergt. R. H. Inglis returned on Monday from Olds, where he has been for the last few days recruiting. While there he signed on Michael Clarke, the oldest son of Dr. Michael Clarke, and the last of the doctor's three sons to enlist; D. V. McDougall, J. Cunningham, and J. W. McDonald are the names of the other three husky young men which the Sergeant attested while at Olds, making one a day for the time spent there. Twenty-five men signed on at Red Deer yesterday, and this very popular Central Alberta battalion is fast filling up.

Anyone wanting meat at wholesale prices call Phone 20. A. Gilmour.

Arbordale U. F. A.

The next regular meeting of the above Union will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ogilvie on Monday next, June 12th. All members are requested to be on hand with their binder twine orders and with twenty per cent. of the cash for the order. Strict attention to this matter will very greatly facilitate business. E. H. Aldwinckle, Sec.-Treas.

How Appendicitis Can Be Prevented

Lacombe people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika, often relieves or prevents appendicitis. This simple mixture removes such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach, or gas. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. Adler-ika has easiest and most thorough action of anything we ever sold. A. Creighton, Druggist.

Rimbey News

Come to Rimbey on July 1st. Rev. Dugan and O. B. Moore are attending conference at Lethbridge.

S. C. Hartley was in our vicinity again last week finishing up his hail insurance business in this part of his territory. Rimbey was well represented at the bull sale held at Lacombe last week. Mr. Little and O. B. Moore each sold one, and Mr. Little bought one, for which he paid the good price of $250.

A recruiting officer visited our district last week and convinced three more of our boys that their country was in need of them, namely, Chas. Onion, Richard Williams, and Arthur Perkins.

The sports committee will meet soon to arrange that big programme for July 1st.

The Bentley married men have challenged the married men of Rimbey for a game of ball, and our men have accepted the challenge with fear and trembling (?) Date later.

On Saturday last our ball team went to Bentley and played the first Rimbey vs. Bentley game of the season. It was a poor exhibition of ball on account of the slippery condition of the diamond, wet ball, etc. Our boys won the game by a comfortable majority. We expect to see two good games next Friday p.m. at Rimbey, the first game between Center Valley and Rimbey, called at 2.30, followed by a game between Rimbey and Bentley, and a dance in the evening with good music. The dance is to be given for the benefit of the base ball boys.

The tent meetings are announced for the whole of this week, and as there are other places calling for the evangelist (Rev. Thomas Bell) he will likely leave us next week.

Mr. Arthur Perkins, while on his way to Lacombe last week, lost a new rifle which he had not yet written his name on. Finder please send same to him at Rimbey; he will appreciate it very much.

The financial committee for the new church have $330.00 in subscriptions now, and if anyone has any of the Lord's money which they feel they would like to give, Mr. J. W. Wright, H. M. Irwin, and P. W. Rimbey have the lists and will be glad to enter your name.

The Girls' Red Cross Society of Rimbey will have a booth on Celebration Day, July 1st, at which they will have a sale of work—fancy aprons, baby dresses, embroidered goods, and other hand-made articles too numerous to mention. They will also be prepared to serve ice cream, cake, sandwiches, candy, etc. Those wishing to help in any way kindly communicate with President Miss Beveridge, or Secretary Miss Pearl Tegart.

The Rimbey Teachers' Association met at the High School on Saturday, June 2nd, and although the day was disagreeable many members were present. Two interesting and instructive papers on Primary Work were read by Miss Creighton and Miss Everhart. A friendly discussion followed, and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. The president and programme committee deserve great credit for the efforts put forth to make this Association a boon to active teachers and interesting to those who wish to keep in touch with educational work. The next meeting will be held in the High School on Saturday, September 2nd.

Word has been received from Calgary that the work done by the young ladies of Rimbey, on behalf of Ogden Home is greatly appreciated there. Much of this credit is due to those who contribute so freely of farm produce.

"MAN'S PREROGATIVE"

This picture presentation of a great moral problem is a four-part Mutual Masterpicture, and features Mary Alden and a fine company of players.

What would you do if you were a wife with a high standard of morals and your husband should carry on a flirtation with a beautiful young woman belonging to a fast social set? Would you try to teach him a lesson by pretending to accept the attentions of another man—on the principle that the same code that governs the woman should regulate the conduct of the man? What would you do if you were a husband and your wife should seem to disregard the social law which holds the woman to a stricter account than the man? Would you feel you had more privileges than she—that there are two standards of morals, one for the man who provides the home and another for the woman who maintains its honor? If either of you are in doubt, see "Man's Prerogative."

At the Rex on Friday evening next, June 9th—not Thursday. Please remember this and see the photos in the lobby of the theatre or at the Post-Office on the day of its presentation—Friday next.

See "The Arab's Vengeance," featuring Margaret Gibson and the Bostock wild animals tonight (Wednesday). Be there tonight.

For Sale.—C. W. Rutledge is offering his household goods at private sale. If you want something good it will pay you to call and see this.

Lockhart News

The Postmaster, and Madame the Postmistress, of Lockhart, visited at the home of Mrs. Wm. Kennedy last Sunday.

It seems quite the fashion these days to be out hunting lost horses. Our last visitor in this line was old man Bjornson. The dumb animals show where instinct is ahead of reason. Whenever they get a chance they make a hike for the "Bad Lands." They know a good locality without seeing it.

Miss Letitia Petrie, daughter of our much respected neighbor, W. H. Petrie, was married in Lacombe last Wednesday, May 31st, to Mr. Carl Vig. The charivari came off the same evening and was a great success.

We are glad to see Bentley, like the fabled Phoenix, is rising from her ashes. We see considerable progress each week.

Sir Roger De Coverley has returned to Bentley. This time he is on the job as a wood butcher.

Councillors Lord Lovat and the Hon. Gus Palm attended the council meeting in Bentley on Saturday last.

Wanted.—Gull Lake lot on water front, south end. Will give good deal. Apply, with particulars, to Box 158, Lacombe, Alta. (M. 31-3c).

BENTLEY MUSICIANS

At the recent examinations held at Bentley, under the auspices of the Royal Academy of Music and the Royal College of Music of London, Eng., the following candidates were successful in the theoretical department: Division 2—Florence Court, 78 marks.

Division 1—Emma P. Nelson, 96 marks.

Division 1—Florence M. Millar, 87 marks.

Division 1—Gladys J. Garries, 84 marks.

Division 1—K. F. Hansen, 78 marks.

Division 1—E. J. Nelson, 70 marks.

Division 1—Doris M. Taylor, 67 marks.

The number of marks required for a pass was 60. All were pupils of Mr. Arthur K. Putland, L.T.C.L.

Ponoka News

Mrs. Harry Smith has been visiting with friends in New Norway.

Brewer Bros. had a six-legged lamb born on their ranch a few days ago.

Mrs. W. J. Scheirer, who has been in very poor health for some time is now much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dickau are visiting with relatives at Didsbury and Swallow.

D. C. McLean has gone on a visit to the States. It is hoped that he will return fully restored to health.

It is pleasing to note that Walter Jones stood well in several contests at the Edmonton sports, held on the 24th.

W. J. and E. J. Scheirer have

MARY PICKFORD AS "MISTRESS NELL"

Daniel Frohman presents Mary Pickford as "Mistress Nell" (one of the greatest heroines of historic and romantic drama).

Miss Pickford will be assisted by her husband (Owen Moore) and an all-star cast. Just look it over—Mistress Nell—Mary Pickford. Charles II, King of England—Owen Moore.

Duke of Buckingham—Arthur Hoops.

Louise, Duchess of Portsmouth—Ruby Hoffman.

Orange Moll—Amelia Rose.

Noblemen—Messrs. Henry, Rouse, Bosch and Koser.

Don't fail to see this famous romance of the gallant days of knighthood—a drama of hearts and swords.

See Mistress Nell in the disguise of a cavalier.

See Mistress Nell prevent a quarrel.

See Mistress Nell between two fires.

See Mistress Nell once more proving herself a true friend to the king.

If you have a favorite seat at the Rex go early either next Saturday or Monday evening; there's sure to be crowded houses to see the idol of the screen—Mary Pickford.

Who ever heard of a disappointed patron of the Rex these days? Every night is good.

A number of local boys were in the ranks of the 89th, which left for England on the 24th.

W. A. Porteous, of Taber, has been visiting his sisters, Mrs. John Hoar and Mrs. Jas. Hepburn. The latter, we are sorry to say, is in very poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kerr and L. G. Crozier were attending the Masonic Grand Lodge, which was held in Banff last week.

A change in the train service took place on Sunday, and is as follows: Going North—at 5.08 p.m., 9.19 a.m. (ex. Sunday), and 1.04 p.m. Going South—at 2.28 a.m., 10.46 a.m., and 8.19 p.m. (except Sunday). A very bad arrangement, and the railway ought to have left well enough alone.

R. H. Gilpin is enjoying a visit from his brother-in-law, E. Waits of Kansas. Mr. Waits intends to locate in Alberta.

Miss Ernestine Mattern and Miss Rena McNish have gone to train as nurses in an Edmonton hospital.

The gas well at the hospital is down over a thousand feet, and good indications are shown that gas will be found.

A bazaar, in aid of the Canadian Red Cross Society, will be held on Friday, June 9th, in the Empress Theatre.

A number of farmers and townsmen turned out on Monday of last week and cleared a great deal of brush on the fair grounds. It is pleasing to think that the grounds will be much improved this year. The next step will be to solicit subscriptions for fencing purposes.

On Saturday, June 10th, at Paul Broderick's Place, Wittenburg, Gilbert Crandon will sell off all his farm stock and implements, without reserve. If you are looking for a nice bunch of cattle attend this sale. C. F. Damron, Auctioneer.

THE BULL SALE

Although rain had been pouring down for two or three days, and a little harder than usual on sale day, the Tenth Annual Sale of Pure-Bred Bulls, held at Lacombe, on Wednesday last, was a decided success. One hundred and eighteen animals were offered to the public, and all were sold at good figures. Buyers were here from all over the West. There were no large buyers in evidence as in previous years, with one or two exceptions all the sales were singles. We hope to have the complete list of buyers and the prices paid in time for next week's paper.

A choice bunch of young cattle will be offered for sale at Gilbert Crandon's auction sale at Wittenburg, on Saturday, June 10th. See list in this issue and attend if you want some snaps. C. F. Damron, Auctioneer.

TERRIBLE TREATMENT OF WOUNDED CANADIANS

London, June 1.—Private Chappelow, a returned prisoner who has arrived at the Canadian hospital at Ramsgate, gives a thrilling detail of his experiences. He was wounded in five places in April of last year, and both his legs were rendered useless.

"Soon after being hit," he says, "German infantry advanced over us in open order. I saw one of our chaps who asked for water shot through the head, so I pretended to be dead and they took all my belongings, including a gold ring, when taking which they nearly took my finger."

"The German Red Cross came along and ordered all who could stand to fall into line. They were then marched 12 miles, and I heard from machine-gun section Corporal Wood, of 'B' company, that many fell out from weakness and when they did arrive at their destination that they were put into cattle trucks and the Germans placed the Canadians alternately side by side with the captured Zouaves, remarking: 'We will put you with your brothers.'"

"A German sergeant came up at dusk where I was with a burying party and I asked him to pick me up, but he replied that he could not as he had too many of their own wounded to look after. He left me a bottle of water and I lay down all day. The burying party came again at night. There were at least 100 wounded Canadians with me, but owing to the want of help and lack of dressing most of them died, only about 10 survivors were picked up and they died one after another. It was awful. The burying party again left me a bottle of water, and declaring again that they were too busy with their own wounded to attend to me."

"After two days I was moved, being sent to a hospital where I was the only British prisoner. I remained here for six weeks. I was well treated, but it did not last long, for I was sent off on a hospital train and became so ill that I had to be taken off and carried to a church which was used as a hospital. Later I was transferred to the prisoners camp at Mexhal, where I had my first lesson in 'kultur,' being left for 48 hours without food excepting for a glass of milk. The medical attention was extremely poor."

"I remained there for 2 months after which I was sent to Glesens, where there were about 260 other Canadians. This place was worse than the last although the food was rather more substantial. When we finally were exchanged we were all examined by German specialists to make sure that all were sufficiently badly wounded to be of no further use."

HOW CANADIAN WOMEN ARE SERVING THE EMPIRE

The women of Canada have taken upon themselves the duty of caring for every Canadian who offers his life in defence of the empire. They care for him in the trench, in the hospital, in the prison camp. They have studied his every need, and provided for it. Theirs is a labor of love and tribute to the brave.

Greater, far greater, is what they are doing for the women and children who are left at home. They have taken upon themselves the care, the protection, and the support of the wives, the widows, the children and the dependents of the men who have been killed or maimed. They have done more. They have built up the greatest organization Canada has ever known. They are wiping out waste. They are making character. They are spending millions to save tens of millions.

Ten thousand women or more who never suspected they had ability beyond the narrow lines of their homes have shown a business capacity, an organizing strength, and the perception far beyond anything men have demonstrated. Canada is giving an example to the whole British Empire—to the whole world, in fact.

There are a multitude of women's organizations in Canada. Among them are the Daughters of the Empire, the National Council of Women, the Canadian Red Cross, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Young Women's Christian Association, Queen Mary's Needlework Guild, the Soldiers' Wives' League, St. John's Ambulance Association, and numerous smaller bodies. These practically have co-operated, and are working under one general plan.

The whole Dominion is distracted. There is a war head in every city. There is an organization in every town and every village. They have grasped the great problems of the war as no other people have. They are not providing for the present alone, but for the period of readjustment when the war-worn men return. They have studied the psychic effect of the war upon the soldier who returns at-bodily, just as they have studied the effect upon the soldier who is brought back wounded or with shattered nerves. They have studied the effect upon the mothers, the wives, the widows, and the children. They have brought order and system out of disorder. They have raised an unbelievable amount of money, and they have made provision to have the flow of money continue as long as the war lasts, and longer. No problem is too difficult for them to solve, no work too hard for them to perform. What they are doing is voluntary. They try to give to the families a new outlook upon life, and their endeavor is to build up a strong, self-reliant group of each and every family. Their work has proved wonderful in unifying Canada. They have brought all of their people, French-Canadians and English-Canadians, closely together. They have broken down class distinction. Race and creed mean nothing. They are teaching the great lesson, that if the empire is worth dying for it is well worth living for, and that out of this great struggle there comes the opportunity for development into a higher citizenship of better men and better women.

THE FREE HOSPITAL QUESTION

The longer we live the more we learn, is an old saying, and as the years roll by old institutions are supplanted by new, but the hospital is one that cannot be supplanted. The hospital, as we understand it, is a building or place in which the sick, injured, or infirm are received and treated. It is a public institution, and not a private place for gain. It is a place where the injured receive that treatment that is not possible in the home, especially surgical operations.

Yet here, in Alberta, if anyone is a sufferer from any disease or injury that necessitates the use of the X-rays or operating table he or she can only command the same by paying an exorbitant fee; therefore, reforms in this direction are urgently needed.

The Women's Hospital Aid of Calgary are organizing a movement, the object of which is "Free Hospitals," and it is flatteringly to state that when women take hold of any project it generally materializes.

A very small tax per acre is all that is necessary to finance and, in other words, endow, free hospitals, and the sooner such reform is brought about the better for all.

If a farmer has a sick cow, horse, or other animal, the government provides free veterinary attendance, and if for such purposes the government can do that why not for the human being?

Land settlement would appear more enticing if it is known that when a wife is about to become a mother, or any of the family are in need of medical attention, it can be procured without in a reasonable distance, instead of, as in many instances, hundreds of miles having to be travelled.

GEORGE BUCK WINS OUT; WILL NOT BE DEPORTED

Wichita, Kansas, June 1.—According to a telegram received here today by McGill & Hudson, lawyers for Geo. W. Buck, the ex-California oil promoter, the action to deport Buck before the United States department of labor has been dismissed and Buck's bond ordered cancelled.

There is but one charge left for the return of Buck to Canada, state the lawyers, and that lies in the extradition charge

Having read of 'Fruit-a-lives', I thought I would try them. The result was surprising. During the 3 years past, I have taken them regularly and would not change for anything. I have not had an hour's sickness since I commenced using 'Fruit-a-lives', and I know now what I haven't known for good many years—that is, the blessing of a healthy body and clear thinking brain."

ENEMY WILL PAY DEARLY FOR MADNESS AT VERDUN

Paris, June 1.—Marcel Hutin, in the Echo de Paris, writes: "I am asked on every side whether an offensive to relieve our troops at Verdun may not have been expected on our side, and especially on our allies' side. From what I can learn the greatest patience must be observed. The hour will come when the enemy will pay dearly for his madness."

HUDSON'S BAY CO. DOES NOT CLOSE LIQUOR STORE IN MANITOBA

Winnipeg, June 1.—The first step in the challenge to be made by the Hudson's Bay Company to the operation of the Manitoba temperance act was taken this morning, when they refused to close their retail store, and displayed their liquor contrary to the provisions of the act. The Manitoba government accepted the challenge, and the attorney-general's department ordered the confiscation of the retail stock, which represents nearly $1,000. Instructions also were given the company forbidding them to sell liquor wholesale.

It is understood that the company invited the action taken by the government in order to set up a test case, which will involve the question of the privileges to trade without interference, as is claimed by the company to be their rights in the deed of surrender of 1870.

The company will now take action against the government in the civil courts for interfering with its rights, and no matter which way the decision goes it will undoubtedly be carried to the privy council.

PRINCE OF WALES WILL WED DAUGHTER OF KING OF ITALY

New York, June 1.—A Paris dispatch to the (News) agency here today said:

"That Prince Edward of Wales,

"Our brave soldiers at Verdun must still suffer and withstand for some time. If the enemy expects some hastily improvised offensive which is doomed to failure from us or the British or the Russians, he once more fails to understand the psychology that the war has ripened by the allies' experience. When everything is ready, with artillery, munitions, and reserves, we, with our allies, will give the crown prince his answer."

MY LITTLE WET HOME IN A TRENCH

I've a little wet home in a trench, Where the rainstorms continually drench; There's a sky overhead, Clay or mud for a bed, And a stone that we use for a bench.

Bully beef and hard biscuits we chew, It seems years since we tasted a stew; Shells crackle and scare, Yet no place can compare With my little wet home in the trench.

Our friends in that trench o'er the way, Seem to know that we've come here to stay, They shoot and they shout, But they can't get us out, Though there's no dirty trick they won't play.

So Hurrah for the mud and the clay, Which leads to Der Tag, that's The Day When we enter Berlin, That City of Sin, And make the fat Berliner pay.

Earl Kitchener and Staff Go Down With Cruiser

The Cruiser Hampshire Strikes a Mine off the Orkneys, and Goes to the Bottom With all on Board.— Sir William Robertson, Chief of the Imperial Staff, Will be Kitchener's Successor.

London, June 6.—Earl Kitchener, British Minister of War, and his staff were on board the British cruiser Hampshire, which was sunk by a mine or torpedo off the Orkneys. It is feared that all are lost.

London, June 6.—Admiral Jellicoe, commander of the British grand fleet, has reported to the admiralty that the British cruiser Hampshire, with Earl Kitchener and his staff aboard, has been lost off the west Orkneys.

Admiral Jellicoe's report to the admiralty follows: "I have to report, with deep regret, that his majesty's ship Hampshire, Captain Herbert J. Savill, R.N., with Lord Kitchener and his staff on board, was sunk last night at about eight o'clock to the west of the Orkneys, either by a mine or a torpedo.

"Four boats were seen by observers on shore to leave the ship. The wind was north-north-west, and heavy seas were running. Patrol vessels and destroyers at once proceeded to the spot and a party were sent along the coast to search, but only some bodies and a capsized boat have been found up to the present. As the whole shore has been searched from the seaward I greatly fear that there is little hope of there being any survivors.

"No report has yet been received from the search party on shore.

"H. M. S. Hampshire was on her way to Russia."

London, June 6.—Earl Kitchener's private military secretary, Brigadier General Ellershaw, and Sir Frederick Donaldson.

When the news was received in London, a meeting of the British war council was immediately called. Sir William Robertson, chief of the Imperial staff, who probably will become the head of the war office, Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, Reginald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer, and David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, were present at the council.

Ottawa, June 6.—Alluding to Lord Kitchener, the prime minister, Sir Robert Borden, said: "It is with deepest regret and sorrow we have learned of the loss of Lord Kitchener and his staff, who, with captain, officers and crew of H.M.S. Hampshire, have perished by the sinking of that ship. During a period of many years Lord Kitchener has served the Empire with great distinction and success. It will be recalled that in the early weeks of the war he foresaw the magnitude of the struggle and its long duration. His presence at the war office inspired confidence not only in the British Isles, but throughout the Empire. But however great the loss, his place will be filled and the Empire will not relax in its efforts or its determination to arise to meet the need of the hour and the confidence which Lord Kitchener's presence inspired will be renewed and maintained."

Lord Kitchener, of Khartoum, first viscount of the name, was born in Crofton House, Bally-longford, County Kerry, Ireland, June 24, 1850. He was a son of the late Lieut.-Col. H. H. Kitchener, of Cossington, Leicestershire, and Miss Chevalier, of Aspull House, Suffolk. He was educated at the Royal Military Academy at Woolwich and entered the Royal Engineers in 1871. He was created major-general in 1896. Since the outbreak of war Lord Kitchener was practically in charge of Britain's military operations as directed from the war office.

Quiet prevailed today in the capital. The death of the president apparently solves the heated political crisis. Li Yuan Hung's succession to the presidency meets the demands of the leaders in the southern provinces.

ALBERTA UNDER "DRY" LAW

As the hour for the enforcement of the prohibition act draws nearer, hotel men and the general public are awaiting with interest the decision at which government members will arrive in respect to framing a hotel act. It is expected that some measure similar to that which has been adopted in Saskatchewan will be passed, varied only to meet the special needs of this province.

In order to assist councils of towns and villages, which have a population of less than a thousand, to provide adequate accommodation for travelers, the government is making arrangements to issue grants to extend over the period of the next two and one-half years until the time of readjustment is passed. These grants shall decrease with the expiration of each six-month period, until they are withdrawn altogether. Grants will always be paid to civic councils and not to individuals, and then only when the director shall have satisfied himself that the grant is actually required.

Believing that something should be provided to take the place of the hotel bar-room as a social center, reading rooms are to be established in all towns, operated by the civic fathers, where farmers driving in from the country may have a place of assembly. In addition, rest-rooms are to be furnished for farmers' wives, where busy country women with them when they come to shop, may spend an hour in rest between shopping periods. The government grant will also extend to this use; and to insure a successful working out of all details, four officers to be known as "accommodation supervisors" will be appointed to act in conjunction with the director appointed by the government for the province, who will visit the towns and villages with a view to assisting local authorities to solve and accommodation problems which may arise.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED
Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system.

To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood purifier, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength.

Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.

RUSSIANS EASILY HOLD FOE IN THE WEST

Petrograd, June 4.—The following official statement was issued today:

"On the western front, in the region northwest of Pilsken, the Germans, after heavy fighting, attempted several times to assume the offensive, but were repulsed. On various sectors of the Dvina front and in the region of Dvinsk the enemy's artillery has been active."

"Friday evening our artillery dispersed Germans who were attempting to assemble northeast of Krevo. South of Krevo we blew up a mine. After the explosion the Germans lit up the crater and, opening fire, attempted an advance, which was checked by our fire. Opposite the village of Gorodniki, seven versts south of Krevo, we observed a mass of smoke coming toward our trenches, but before reaching our entanglements the cloud drifted back, causing great tumult in the German trenches, where large fires were seen burning."

"In the afternoon one of our aircraft was attacked by a German Fokker near the village of Emay. Our pilot met the enemy with machine-gun fire and forced him to descend rapidly."

"An enemy machine dropped four bombs on the station at Malodresno."

"On the remainder of the front there were small skirmishes by advanced posts."

Bad Lands News

George Jaffray is very bashful, and has been calling on a certain young lady for some time. He has so far been unable to pop the question. Last Sunday night he said, "Say lassie! dae ye ken I was here Monday night?" "Yes," "And again Tuesday?" "Yes," "And I was here Wednesday and Thursday?" "Yes," "And once more, on Friday and again, last night?" "So you were," "And here I am to-night," "Yes," In desperation, "Woman, dae ye no smell a rat?"

"I'll attend to you in a minute," was the favorite remark of Mrs. Gregory to Harry when he is naughty, and he knows what is coming. One day she sent him to Putland & Thorp's store for some flour. It was his first errand, and much to his mother's surprise he returned empty-handed. "Where's the flour?" she asked. "I didn't get it," replied Harry. "Frank Thorp frightened me," "Nonsense," said Mrs. Gregory. "Go back and get the flour." But again Harry came back without it, and this time his eyes were full of tears. "What's the matter," his mother asked in great anxiety. "I'm afraid of Frank," he wailed. "Every time I went in he said, 'I'll attend to you in a minute.'"

"Won't you be very happy when your sentence is over?" asked a visitor of a convict. "I dunno, ma'am; I dunno," replied the man. "You don't know?" asked the visitor. "Why not?" "I'm in for life."

Bill Baillie asks us to inform the Bentley man that he gathers the cream he takes to Lacombe on Monday morning. The hour he passes Bentley isn't really early; it only seems so to the Bentley correspondent, as it is close on the closing of the Snh-bath evening service of the Poker Club.

The Owl—"What's the matter? It's a good joke isn't it?" Bill B. Lee—"It's a very good joke; the first time I heard that joke I laughed till the tears ran down my pinafore."

We met old man Scroggie the other day, and asked him how he liked Lacombe as a place of residence. "Well," he replied, "Lacombe is a great city, but I wish I had come here to live before I was converted."

We have a number of ex-Kansas in this part of Alberta; as note Kansas Ridge near Rimbey. They may be interested to read what Governor Copper of Kansas has to say: "The average Kansan gets up in the morning in a house made in Michigan, at the sound of an alarm clock made in Illinois, puts on his Missouri overalls, washes his hands with Cincinnati soap in a Pennsylvania basin; sits down to a Grand Rapids table; eats Battle Creek breakfast food and Chicago bacon cooked on a Michigan range; puts New York harness on a span of Missouri mules and hitches them to a South Bend wagon, or starts up his Illinois tractor with a Moline plow attached. After the day's work he rides down town in a Detroit automobile; buys a box of St. Louis candy for his wife and spins back home where he listens to music 'canned' in Camden, N. J."

"Are the fish thick here?" "Well, not too thick," replied Dick Williamson; "we have to use this lake partly for navigation."

Fred Peachy—"Doc, what I need is something to stir me up; something to put me in fighting trim; did you put anything like that in this prescription?" Dr. Laughbaum—"No; you will find that in the bill."

The Boode boys had on an oriental film the other night, and to give a touch of local color Ole burned in the auditorium, some of those pungent tapers used in Chinese Joss houses. A gentleman coming in sniffed the air; then, turning to Ole, said,

"Young man, I smell punk." "How's that, sir?" said Ole. "I said," replied the gentleman, "that I smell punk." "Oh! that will be all right," reassured Ole; "I can let you sit in the gallery where no one will notice it."

The other day, coming from Lacombe, we met some half dozen teams from Rimbey loaded with grain. They were careful to draw our attention to the fact that they were some of the thousands of loads now being marketed.

Archie had been into Lacombe on business, and was expected home on the 6 p. m. Bentley flyer. Meeting the Rev. Dr. Shearer he was persuaded to stay for an evening in town and take in at "At Home" at the residence of Mrs. White Rabbit. He was in a dilemma as to what excuse to make, and then telegraphed home: "Have lost 6 p. m. flyer; will be late reaching home," and proceeded to put in a good time. When he arrived home, considerably late, his wife met him at the door. "Did you get my message, dearest?" he asked, hoping to forestall the trouble. "Yes," she replied in icy tones, "and I would like you to explain why you sent a wire at 5.14 saying you had missed the 6 p. m. train?"

We feel happy in the thought that Mr. Puffer knows nothing of our martial connections—so he can make no horrible revelations about our mother-in-law. He doesn't know whether we married into the family of a digger Indian, Hottentot, or only one of those "Why did you leave Canada?" Michigansers, and we aren't going to put him wise.

Canada's Pension Scheme

On the closing day of the session of the House of Commons a report was received from the committee appointed to revise the scale of pensions to soldiers. The new scale will go into force at once, and will be paid as from the beginning of the war. No special legislation for that purpose was passed, owing to lack of time, but the payments will be made under the provisions of the war measures act, until the whole subject can be dealt with by special legislation, probably next year.

The scheme which, it is understood, will finally be adopted, will provide for the appointment of a board of pension commissioners, from whose decisions there shall be no appeal either to the government or anyone else. The object of this arrangement is to prevent any impression getting abroad that a man's claim can be influenced in the slightest degree by any sort of pull. The members of the board will hold office for 10 years, and will be entrusted with the consideration, determination, and administration of all military and naval pensions.

On the scale as now fixed it is estimated that Canada will pay in pensions $7,184,181 a year for each 100,000 men enlisted. This is on the supposition that the deaths will be 15 per cent., total disablement three per cent., partial disablement six per cent., and slight disablement nine per cent. These are the figures of the British war office. If our army reaches half a million the annual charge will be $35,920,905.

The committee to whom the matter was referred had to deal with a number of important practical questions. With some hesitation they came to the conclusion that married and unmarried men should be treated alike. The position presented difficulties. Some of the men were married at the time of enlistment, some married subsequent to enlistment, and later on a regulation was made that to the wife of a man married subsequent to enlistment no separation allowance would be granted unless he obtained the consent of his commanding officer. Some men obtained this consent and were married. Others abandoned the hope of securing the separation allowance and married without the consent of the commanding officer. Another group who were engaged to Canadian girls went overseas without marrying, no doubt with the understanding that they would be married on their return.

After considering all these classes, the committee felt that it would be unfair to differentiate. They therefore decided to give the same pensions to all, so that when the war is over and the men return they will be all on the same plane, no matter whether they had married before the war broke out or subsequently, or before going to the front or after they came back.

Another important question dealt with, but as to which no final conclusion was reached, was as to whether the pension list should include men who enlisted in Canada for service in any of the allied countries, or who went as reservists to the British Isles. It was felt that the inclusion of this class at this juncture would not be prudent. The extra annual charge would be $1,000,000, and it was deemed wise to let the matter wait over until next year, by which time full information would be at hand as to how these groups are dealt with by the countries in whose armies they are fighting. Provision can be made for them, or for their dependents in Canada if such a course is deemed desirable.

It is especially noted that both political parties were represented on the committee which drew up the new scale, but that the report was nevertheless unanimous with the exception of Hon. Frank Oliver, who contended for larger payments to married men than to unmarried. Mr. Oliver's views on this point, of course, were based on considerations altogether apart from politics. Otherwise there was, as Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux expressed it, "never a ripple of disagreement" among the members.

During the discussion of the subject, Sir Robert Borden took occasion to testify that the operation of the pension law up to the present has been entirely free from political pressure. On no single occasion had he heard even the breath of a suspicion that such a thing had taken place or was possible. He added that in the appointment of a permanent board of commissioners the government would take good care to secure men who would command the respect and confidence of the Canadian people.

EXPERT AUDIT OF C. N. R.

Ottawa, May 31.—The government has appointed the firms of Marwick, Mitchell, Peat & Co., and Price, Waterhouse & Co. as auditors of the Canadian Northern railway system and the Grand Trunk Pacific railway system respectively. The duties of these firms will be to make on behalf of the government a continuous audit of the revenues and expenditures of the railway systems in question and report to the government the result of such audit from time to time. The appointments have been made in pursuance of statements made in the house by the finance minister in connection with the legislation authorizing loans to these two railway companies.

UNITED FARMERS GIVE

$1,000 TO RED CROSS

A check for $1,000.00 has just been received by the Alberta Provincial Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society from the United Farmers of Alberta. The receipt of this splendid contribution is especially gratifying in view of the tremendous demand for supplies which the Red Cross is called upon to meet at the present time. From the day of its inauguration in this province the Red Cross Society has received most loyal support from the United Farmers; constant donations of cash have been sent from the various local units, while thousands of supplies have been made and donated through the efforts of the United Farm women, numbers of whom are also contributing to the work of the local branches of the Red Cross.

FUNERAL OF J. I. HILL

St. Paul, Minn., May 31.—Funeral services for the late J. I. Hill were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Mr. Hill's residence, Summit avenue, in the presence of members of the family and friends, while thousands of people lined the street for several squares in either direction from the home. Contrary to first arrangements, the services at the house were not private, several hundred friends and former business associates being admitted to the residence. Others thronged the grounds, unable to find standing room indoors.

At the conclusion of the services at the home the body was taken by automobile cortege to North Oaks farm, five miles northeast of St. Paul, where burial was made on the shore of Pleasant Lake. Hundreds of automobiles followed the body to its last resting place.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

What They Cured Here's the remarkable experience of a Nova Scotian:

"I was once a terrible sufferer with kidney and bladder troubles, and at times I would lose the use of my legs, and could not go away from home without some one with me. I was treated by different doctors for 3 years, and only got temporary relief. My son advised me to take Gin Pills, and after taking the first or two I got relief. I continued to take them until I got completely cured. I owe my life to Gin Pills."

Yours very truly,

Canadians Engage in Most Terrible Battle of the War

Ottawa, June 5.—Not since St. Julien have the Canadians suffered so heavily as they did in the tremendous fighting between Ypres and Hooge, on June 2 and 3. After being pushed back for 700 yards on a front of 3,000 yards the Canadians, by a heroic counter-attack with bombs and bayonet, re-took most of the ground lost. No less than 101 officers of all ranks figured in the first casualties received from the fighting this morning. These include a major-general and a brigadier-general, four lieutenant-colonels, eight majors, 21 captains, and 66 lieutenants.

Evidence of the toll paid by the Canadians in the fighting at Ypres is shown in the casualties received at the militia department. About 700 names of the rank and file have already been received, and will be made public as soon as the next of kin is notified. The list is steadily growing, and the casualty and record office staff has already instituted an all-night tour of duty to promptly notify relatives.

The fight was terrific—airial torpedoes, Jack Johnsons—every kind of gun was used, from the heavy howitzers to the trench mortars. The Germans' main weapon was high explosives from 42 centimetre and 8 and 9-inch guns.

It seemed as though the entire surface of the earth was spouting flame against the deafening din. Our boys in the trenches could do nothing. It was impossible to advance, impossible to retire, impossible to reply—they had simply to seek shelter in the dugouts and wait.

Soon the high explosives had shattered every earthwork, making the place one shapeless shambles. Simultaneously other German guns built a tremendous barrage by concentrating artillery fire behind our trenches, thus making a considerable area through which it was impossible for any troops to advance or any relief to come.

The bombardment bore witness to the fact, which has been becoming more evident for the last month, that the Germans have enormously improved their artillery equipment. They have apparently a good supply of guns and shells, and they are able to concentrate upon given sectors of the line a fire greater than anything possible last year.

Nine German battalions advanced after two and three-quarter hours' bombardment. The way had been cleared by artillery so thoroughly that it was impossible to stop them.

Meantime the British artillery from the entire sector began to concentrate upon the German lines around here. When the Germans occupied our trenches our gunners, having the range exactly, were able to heap wholesale death upon them, so that their temporary victory was barren, it having been impossible for them to dig themselves in and obtain any real shelter from our guns.

Immediate preparations were made to recover the ground. The Canadians, whose main line was now from the southwest of Hooge, through Sanctuary wood, toward Hill 60, used the darkness of Friday night to punish the foe. All night raiding parties and bombing parties threw themselves upon the German front, while our artillery in turn made an impenetrable screen of fire behind the new German front. The Germans tried to advance further through the darkness, but found it impossible to hold their own.

Then we attacked, the pipers playing and men cheering and

Blackfalds News

Rev. and Mrs. Corcoran, and Helen, are in Lethbridge. Mr. Corcoran is attending the Conference, which was in session all last week.

The Red Cross Society met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dunham.

The postponed 24th celebration could not be held last Tuesday on account of the heavy dew and humidity, of the atmosphere. There is some talk of "doings" on July 1st.

Chris Sorenson and family have moved into their new home purchased from R. H. Trout. This week they are busy moving their store to the old stand next to R. Randolph's.

Messrs. Hukill, Farewell, McCullough, and Miller, loaded a car of oats last week.

Service was conducted in the Presbyterian Church last Sunday by F. S. Milliken, there being no regular service in the Methodist Church. There was a good attendance, and the newly-organized choir rendered a pleasing anthem while the offering was being received.

The base ball boys have done considerable practicing in the last two weeks, and are anxious to get the scalps of other teams. They hope to play at Red Deer on Thursday evening of this week.

The tennis club are having a local tournament just now. Miss McCullough and Mrs. Smith played some fast close sets, the former emerging a winner.

The ladies of the Red Cross wish to thank those who assisted with the sale of the tags, and to acknowledge receipt of $11.30 therefrom.

BARS IN MANITOBA CLOSE DOWN FOR THE LAST TIME

Winnipeg, May 31.—Manitoba today cast from its shoulder forever the yoke of the licensed saloon, and tomorrow the new prohibition legislation comes into effect. There was little or no celebration in the city tonight as the 76 bars closed their doors, and the police report that there was less drunkenness even than on any ordinary night.

About 500 bartenders were thrown out of work, but many of those have planned to go to wet territory in the States.

Already several hotels in the city have gone out of business, while others are converting their barroom into light lunch rooms.

Approximately 174 licensed bars, outside of Winnipeg, went out of existence tonight with the introduction of the Macdonald Act.

Fifty Dollars Given Away To Active Contestants

FIFTY DOLLARS—that's a lot of money these days BUT—

As an incentive to the contestants in the Globe's Great Circulation Campaign to get to work in earnest, the Campaign Manager is making the offer of a SPECIAL CASH PRIZE OF FIFTY DOLLARS ($50.00) to the contestant who turns in the greatest number of subscriptions before midnight on Thursday, June 15th—every dollar turned in to count as one subscription.

To give the outside candidates the same chance for the SPECIAL PRIZE as they are given in the contest for the Car (see advertisement) they can secure subscription up to midnight on June 15, and their subscriptions must reach us on Monday, June 19th.

The winning of this prize does not affect the chances for the car as each and every candidate receives full credit in votes for all money sent in.

This prize of $50.00 is in addition to the car.

Couldn't you use the $50.00 as well as the car? Of course you could. Well, get busy and win both prizes.

Now, just a word or two about the Great Contest.

In another 24 days—July 1st, at midnight—the contest for the Chevrolet Car will close, and votes taken after that date will not be counted. In order that candidates at outside points will have the same chance as those in Lacombe, or nearby, they can collect votes right up to that date (July 1st), and three (3) days grace will be allowed for their cash and subscriptions to reach this office. Could anything be fairer to all the candidates than this? We think not. We want all to be equal on quitting—midnight, July 1st.

Your chance is just as good as ever, and the one who stays on the job will get the car—WORK IS SURE TO WIN IN THE END. On the evening of July 4th, 1916, the full returns will be turned over to the managers of the three banks in Lacombe, who have kindly consented to total up the votes secured by the various candidates and award the Grand Prize to the winner.

Wouldn't you like to show your "independence" on July 4th by riding in your own car? If you would, get out and win that Chevrolet Car.

GET BUSY, KEEP BUSY, and STAY BUSY until midnight of July 1st. You CAN WIN that Grand Prize if you do.

A RUSSIAN ALLIANCE

Russia's foreign minister has given an interview in which he says that the alliance now existing between Britain and Russia will be permanent. It is a consummation devoutly to be wished, but only under certain circumstances.

Before the great war—for many years before, in fact—anything like an alliance with Russia was objectionable to the mind of the British people. They had no liking for the half savage methods of the Russian government and they were not disposed to be linked up with a nation in friendly alliance which meted out such harsh treatment to the Jews and other races resident within its borders.

Since the commencement of the war there have been great changes in Russia's methods and in its government. There are signs that the nation has awakened, and that never again will it be possible for bureaucratic rule to dominate as it has done in the past. But there is yet much to be done in the way of improvement before conditions will be agreeable enough to make such alliance satisfactory to the British people. And we may reasonably hope that the improvements will materialize. Czar Nicholas has shown that he is not afraid to make radical moves and the war must have demonstrated to him that such moves were necessary.

MISS ELLA STENT PASSES AWAY

The community was shocked on Saturday evening to hear that Miss Gertrude Eleanor Stent, only daughter of Mrs. Stent, died very suddenly that evening. Miss Stent suffered a severe attack of pneumonia a few months ago from which she was apparently recovering slowly, and only last week she was made the recipient of a present from St. Luke's Choir, of which she was a member for a number of years. She was to have been married today at St. Luke's Church to the Rev. F. A. Knight, B. A., of Drumheller.

The funeral, which was delayed in the expectancy that Rev. Claude Stent, brother of the deceased, might arrive from the East, will be held this Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from St. Luke's Church, after which interment will take place in the Red Deer cemetery.

The news joins with the many friends of Mrs. Stent and the sorrowing family in extending to them heartfelt sympathy in their great bereavement.—(Red Deer News of May 31st).

RED CROSS NOTES

The knitters and sewers for the Red Cross Society will please meet at the home of Mrs. Ramsay on Friday afternoon at two o'clock.
